DIAGNOSTIC PANEL KITS

The Veethree Instruments line of diagnostic panels can be designed to meet your specific needs. These stylish and fully functional panels allow complete diagnosis and control of your engines and equipment. Custom options include a wide variety of tachometer and tachometer with hour meter gauges, analog gauges, electronic gauges, CAN gauges and LCD displays, and switch-type gauges designed to control shutdown and warning features. In addition, the diagnostic panels provide engine start and emergency stop functions.

The instruments are packaged into durable metal panels suitable for tough environments, and are complete with wiring harnesses ready to plug in and operate.

Our industry-leading instruments come fully assembled in panels and are supported with our three-year warranty. These panels can be configured with different combinations of gauges and features. Contact our sales department to discuss your needs and for information on pricing and custom configurations.
